

For Immediate Release

March 13, 2007; Los Angeles, California

eKnowledge Corporation and a group of NFL players pledge to donate up to $10 Million in SAT/ACT Test Preparation Programs to military service members and their families in 2007.

Last year, eKnowledge Corporation, a leading supplier of interactive test preparation products for college entrance exams, along with a group of patriotic NFL players, donated $6.9 million worth of $200 multimedia SAT/ACT test preparation products to military service members and their families. During 2006, more than 48,000 free SAT/ACT multimedia CD & DVD test preparation programs were donated to service members and their families worldwide. Over the past several months, eKnowledge and the NFL players have received tens of thousands of letters and emails from service members expressing appreciation for these valuable SAT/ACT test preparation products. Based on the tremendous response from service members and their families, eKnowledge and the participating NFL players announced today that they will extend the free SAT/ACT donation program through 2007, with a total financial commitment of $10 million. Following today's press release, Charles P. Beall, CEO of eKnowledge and a Marine Corps veteran, made the following statement:

“We owe our military service members and their families a heartfelt ‘thank you’ for their sacrifice and honorable service to our country. The donation of these eKnowledge products hopefully will demonstrate our deep appreciation and financial commitment to their futures. With these highly effective SAT and ACT Test Preparation products, America’s military service members and dependents who dream of pursuing a college education will now have the tools they need to compete on a level playing field.”

eKnowledge has pledged to donate up to $10 million in free SAT/ACT programs through the end of this year.

Some of the patriotic NFL players who have pledged to support the eKnowledge donation program for 2007 include: Mark Anderson (Chicago Bears), Jon Bradley (Tampa Bay Buccaneers), Scott Young (Philadelphia Eagles), Garrick Jones (Atlanta Falcons), Corey Williams (Green Bay Packers), Jason Radar (Miami Dolphins), and Ahmaad Galloway (San Diego Chargers),

How to Request the donated $200.00 eKnowledge SAT/ACT prep programs:

Active duty, reserve or retired military service members should visit <http://www.militaryhomefront.dod.mil> to confirm their military status through the secure DoD DEERS main database. The website will forward them to the eKnowledge/NFL sponsorship order page where they can request the SAT/ACT programs. The eKnowledge/NFL sponsorship donation covers the complete $200.00 standard price for the program. Eligible military service members will pay only for the actual cost of packaging, processing and shipping the donated products anywhere in the world.

To view a flyer that has been developed to assist with the administration of the programs, please go to: <http://sat.eknowledge.com/military.asp>

Questions: Please contact eKnowledge support at support@eknowledge.com (951) 256-4076

One of the NFL players in the coalition is Mark Anderson. Mark, a rookie defensive tackle for the Chicago Bears, led all rookies in the NFL with 12 quarterback sacks and four forced fumbles. He made important defensive plays in the Bears Divisional game against the Seahawks, the NFC conference championship game against New Orleans and in the Super Bowl against the Colts.

Mark Anderson pressures Seattle's QB Matt Hasselbeck in Divisional Title game Bears won 27-24

Mark Anderson sacks New Orleans QB Drew Brees and caused fumble in first quarter of NFC title game--Bears won 39-14

Mark and teammates celebrate during Super Bowl

Mark in Miami for Super Bowl warming up